

7th February 2013 - Paryavaran Mitra Painting Competition

Painting Competition was organized for classes III – VIII which was categorized in two different groups with the following themes –

Group A - III-V – Energy and Environment

Group B – VI – VIII – Save Fuel Yaani Save Money

Participation in this National Level Painting Competition of petroleum conservation research association provided children an opportunity to express their concern on energy conservation and display their talent.

Students took initiative to create awareness to meet the challenges of environmental sustainability at their spheres of influence. They painted their sheets on how one should use solar cars, electric cars to save fuel and how we can save our future by saving our energy and environment.

Following students were awarded Merit Certificates and their paintings got selected for the Regional and National level.
